Q1.

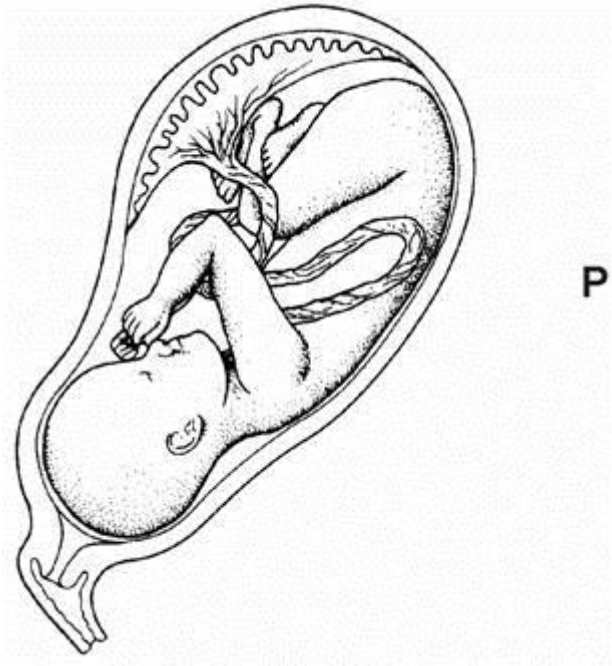

If a pregnant woman drinks beer or wine, some of the alcohol passes to the unborn baby. Alcohol can stop the baby's brain developing properly.

(a) Join the boxes with three arrows to show the path taken by the alcohol.

1 mark

(b) The drawing below shows a baby just before it is born. Draw a line from the letter P to the placenta.

1 mark

(c) Give two functions of the placenta.

1. .....

.....

2. .....

.....

2 marks

(d) During pregnancy the baby is surrounded by a liquid called amniotic fluid.

Suggest one reason why amniotic fluid is important.

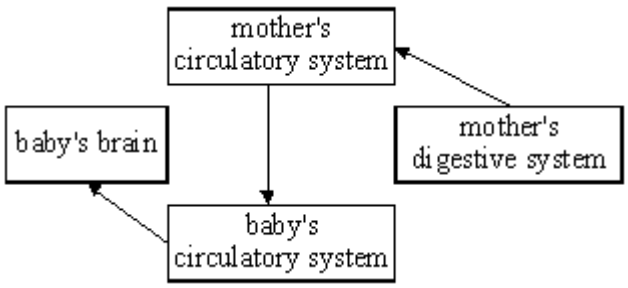

.....

.....

1 mark
Maximum 5 marks

Q1.

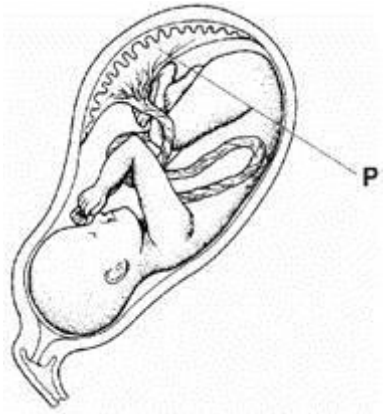

(a)

all three arrows required for the mark accept lines provided at least one arrowhead is shown

1 (L6)

(b) placenta labelled correctly

the line from P must end within the shaded area accept P written directly on the diagram provided it is entirely within the placenta

1 (L6)

(c) any two from

- to give oxygen to the baby
  do not accept 'to allow the baby to breathe'
- to remove carbon dioxide
- to provide nutrients accept 'to pass food to the baby'
  or 'to feed the baby'*
- to remove waste
  accept 'to produce hormones'

2 (L6)

(d) any one from

- cushions baby

accept 'protects baby'

- protects baby from bumps do not accept 'protects baby from disease'

- supports baby
  do not accept 'insulates baby'
  or 'helps baby to be born'*

- allows baby to move

1 (L6)

[5]